

QUADROR™ 01 —

Dror, 2015

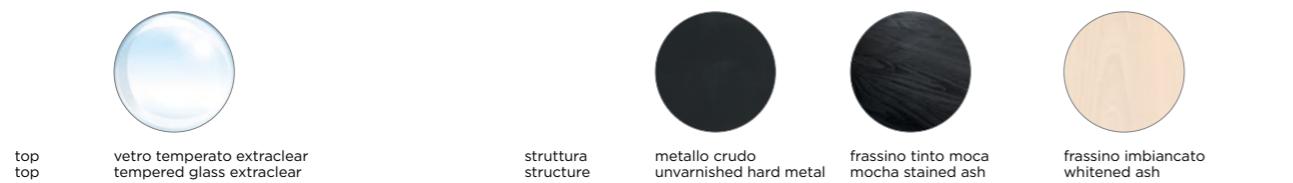

While working on the construction of a frame composed of two surfaces intersecting each other, Dror "stumbled" on a fascinating discovery: expertly cut and combined together the material creates a new form, a new structural element which, when open, creates a stable and independent triangular base. In QuaDror™ 01 this base is enhanced and complemented by a "dress" in extraclear tempered glass.

QUADROR™ 01—

Mentre stava lavorando alla costruzione di un telaio composto da due superfici intersecanti tra loro, Dror « inciampa » in una scoperta affascinante: la materia, tagliata sapientemente e combinata assieme genera una nuova forma, un elemento strutturale nuovo che, aperto, crea una base triangolare stabile ed indipendente. Nel QuaDror™ 01 questa base viene impreziosita e completata da un "abito" in vetro temperato extraclear.
